3. Student exchanges will adhere to the following principles:

 - d) Students must have completed at least one year of the academic program in which they are currently enrolled.
 - e) When necessary, the proposed program of courses for each student will be approved, prior to leaving, by the department head or the Dean of the home institution.
 - f) It shall be the responsibility of the home institution to prearrange credit transfers modalities in order to meet graduation requirements at the home institution.
 - g) Students pay tuition fees at their home institution. Beyond that, no further admission fee, general fee or tuition will be required by the host institution.
 - h) Exchange students will enjoy the same academic rights and other privileges enjoyed by the students enrolled at the host institution.
 - i) Exchange students will be subject to the rules, regulations and disciplinary procedures of the host institution.
 - j) The host institution will provide assistance in finding accommodations. The student will pay for the accommodation and all other living expenses.
 - k) Travel expenses, health and accident insurance and civil liability insurance will be borne by each exchange student. However, scholarships by each government or various organizations may be appropriated to those expenses.

- 1) The status of each exchange student will be "visiting student" at the Department of Law of the University of Pisa and "non-degree special auditing student" or "non-degree special research student" at Faculty of Law and Graduate School of Law of Kobe University.
4. This Understanding shall be in effect upon signatures from both sides and shall remain in force for the period during which the Agreement of Academic Exchange is in force.
